SIGNIFICANCE OF THE MOVEMENT.

"What is the full significance of the movement instituted by yourself and Mr. Sedden towards a new organization in the South?" I asked.

"Neither Mr. Sedden nor myself," said Colonel Parsons, "have assumed to institute any movement. We have been requested to speak for others who believe that it is time for the South to assert herself and explain her position. All we have done in the correspondence referred to is to prepare the way for a petition and to suggest, if it be sufficiently signed, a place for conference. If at least one thousand representative nt least one thousand representative men sign this authority a convention will be called. Otherwise this move-

It can no longer be said that the Government of the United States is neglecting the farming interests. Secretary Rusk has issued a pamphlet giving a history of the Agricultural experiment stations which have been established under a recent law of Congress and which are now conducting scientific and under a recent law of Congress and which are now conducting scientific and practical experiments in regard to soil, tillage, manures, crops, stock-feeding, dairying and horticulture in the various States. All the States and one Territory, Dakota, now have agricultural experiment stations. The total number of these stations in operation is 46, or including branch stations, nearly 60. They employ more than 370 scientists and agriculturists, and will this year receive $595,000 from the National Government, and about $125,000 from the States and other sources. The most cordial feeling is said to exist between the stations and the Department of Agriculture, which is charged by Congress with the duty of supervising and aiding the work of the stations.

SENATOR EVARTS' LOG CABIN.

Senator Evarts has erected an old fash-oned Log Cabin on an elevated point of and which he lately purchased on the 'cotomac, just below Washington. It is much more elegant in its finish and appointments than were the homes of our ancestors in the Log Cabin days of our ancestors in the Log Caoin ways of long ago, but probably not more con-ducive to comfort. Outside, it presents the appearance of the typical old fashioned house of the pioneers, being built of logs hewn in the idjacent forest and raised and chinked it adjacent forest and raised and chinked in the olden style. The interior will be finished in native woods, from the place, but, unlike the primitive original, it will be finished in oil.

This is luxury to which the dwellers in the rude Cabins of early days dared not aspire, it being pure luxury, and not adding to the comfort of the domicile.

Senter Fearth began the Log Cabin.

Many a happy days surcease from the toils and cares of this great station, our Log Cabin president will no doubt enjoy beneath its hospitable roof as the guest of the genial, senior Senator from New York by the correspondence between Col. II.

C. Parsons, of Virginia, and Mr. Thomas Sedden, now of Alabama, on the subject of calling a convention of Southern Protectionists some time next month, all published in the Herald, have created a very marked and deep scated impression throughout this section. The ParsonsSedden letters give a practical shape and form to what General Prayor suggested, and the subject is receiving wide-spread and interesting attention.

Colonel Parsons, as his initials, "H.
C.," would indicate, comes from an old line whig West Virginia Union family, while Mr. Thomas Sedden is a democrat of the straightest stripe, his father, James A. Sedden, having been Confederate Secretary of War. Colonel Parsons wore the blue, Mr. Sedden wore the gray.
The two make a Southern team of remarkable political strength, and Colonel Parsons being in the city I called upon him to obtain a fuller explanation of the aims and objects of the proposed Southern Protection Convention, He was in quite a hurry, but said he would consent to be interviewed becaose he was desirous of recognizing the great service the Herald has rendered the South and
